

PUTTING THE BRAKES ON RIDER HARASSMENT: Research Tools, Community Partnerships, and Data-Driven Solutions

Tuesday
February 6, 2024

10:00-
11:00a.m. (PT)

1 PDH Credit

Free
Webinar

tinyurl.com/putting-the-brakes

MTI Survey Presenter

Asha Weinstein Agrawal, PhD

National Transportation
Finance Center
Director, MTI

Moderator

Annie Lee, Esq.

Managing Director
of Policy, Chinese
for Affirmative
Action/Stop AAPI
Hate

Panelist

Chantal Hildebrand

Co-Executive Director, Alliance
for Girls

Panelist

Meghna Khanna

Deputy Executive
Officer, Mobility
Corridors, LA Metro

Panelist

Alicia Trost

Chief Communications
Officer, BART

Harassment is keeping riders from using transit and feeling safe. Join a discussion with two transit operators and their community partners to discuss strategies for learning about what riders are facing and how to put an end to it. Taking on harassment on transit doesn't need to be a daunting task—it starts with data collection and setting up community partnerships to guide the process. Speakers will discuss both qualitative data gathering approaches and a new passenger survey tool. How can these be used to make a difference in making public transit safer for everyone?

Be a part of the conversation about putting the brakes on rider harassment.

WHO IS IT FOR:

This webinar is for transit riders, operators, community-based organizations, advocacy groups, government workers, researchers, and anyone who wants to be a part of sharing insights and strategies to address rider harassment and fostering a safer and more inclusive public transit experience for everyone.

SJSU SAN JOSÉ STATE UNIVERSITY

MTI // MINETA
TRANSPORTATION
INSTITUTE

CO-SPONSORED BY:

STOP
AAPI
HATE