

Who Works in Transit? Establishing a Baseline of Transit Workforce Diversity

September 3, 2024
Online | 0.5 PDH
12:00-12:30p.m. (PT)

Asha Weinstein Agrawal, PhD

Research Associate;
Education Director
MTI

Evelyn Blumenberg, PhD

Professor; Director, Lewis Center for Regional Policy Studies in the Luskin School of Public Affairs
UCLA

Anastasia Loukaitou-Sideris, PhD

Distinguished Professor; Interim Dean, Luskin School of Public Affairs and Professor of Urban Planning
UCLA

Public transit agencies function best when the diversity of their workforce represents the communities they serve—yet research finds mismatched representation, with fewer women and people of color in leadership positions and an overconcentration of men and people of color in operational roles. This Research Snaps is based on the MTI report Understanding Workforce Diversity in the Transit Industry: Establishing a Baseline of Diversity Demographics. The report authors will share the latest data on racial, ethnic, and gender diversity in the U.S. transit workforce. They will also dive into promising practices to help transit agencies attract and retain staff who reflect and embrace the vibrant diversity of their communities. Don't miss our event Who Works in Transit? Establishing a Baseline of Transit Workforce Diversity.

Register Now:
<https://tinyurl.com/WhoWorksInTransit>