Passcode: 160316

Plan to join at least ten minutes before 5:30 pm, to make sure you are ready when class begins. (The very first time you join from a new computer or device, allow extra time for set-up.)

The university has tutorials on how to use Zoom here: http://www.sjsu.edu/ecampus/teaching-tools/zoom/index.html

Notification about Class Recordings:
All class sessions are audio and video-recorded through Zoom. The Zoom recordings will be available to registered students, on request, for personal use only. Recordings may not be shared.

Messaging/Course Communications
Course materials will be posted on the Canvas Leaning Management System (http://sjsu.instructure.com).
You are also responsible for regularly checking the email address associated with your MySJSU account in order to learn of any course updates.

Course Description
Advanced policy or program evaluation design and proposal writing. Students conduct background research and develop a Policy or Program Evaluation Plan that demonstrates their capacity to do independent research, analysis, and writing about a complex transportation management problem.

MSTM Program Goals
(Note: Not all program learning goals are covered in every course)

Goal One: Management of Transportation Organizations
Develop a systems-savvy and global perspective on solving transportation management challenges.

Goal Two: Transportation Policy
Develop solutions to transportation management challenges that integrate knowledge of the transportation policy environment.

Goal Three: Leadership
Identify and analyze leadership styles and traits.

Goal Four: Communication Skills
Communicate effectively with a diverse workforce and citizenry.

Goal Five: Analytical Skills
Identify and evaluate transportation management issues using appropriate methodological approaches.
Course Learning Outcomes

This course is the first part of the capstone experience for MSTM students. In MTM 283, students develop the skills and knowledge to complete a plan for a policy or program evaluation or similar analytical management project. Course content covers how to frame effective evaluation questions to guide a program evaluation, identify appropriate literature relevant to an evaluation topic, and determine appropriate data sources and analysis methods. In addition, students deepen their skills at professional writing and providing constructive feedback on writing to peers.

Through the MTM 283 coursework, students develop their ability to:

1. Conceptualize a program or policy evaluation project that has a precise evaluation question and methods that are feasible and credible
2. Identify and summarize appropriate professional literature relevant to a proposed area of evaluation
3. Prepare written reports with clear and compelling prose (tables, charts, etc.), in a style appropriate for a transportation manager
4. Prepare constructive, tactful feedback to help peers improve their writing

Required Texts/Readings

Students must purchase one required text: Kate L. Turabian’s A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 9th ed (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2018). New copies can be purchased for about $15.00.

There also will be short readings in electronic format that are provided in Canvas or are available through the SJSU library.

Library Liaison

The Library Liaison for the Lucas Graduate School of Business is Christa Bailey (christa.bailey@sjsu.edu). Students may contact her to request research assistance.

Course Requirements and Assignments

Students complete most work for this course independently, with the instructor providing feedback through one-on-one meetings. In addition, students must attend five class sessions that cover course material applicable to all students.

The core class requirement is to prepare two drafts and a final version of a policy or program evaluation plan. The final evaluation plan will include a clear description of the evaluation question(s) to be answered, the intended audience for the final project, a well-evidenced explanation of why the intended audience would want to read your final report, a detailed plan for the evaluation methods (data sources and approach to the analysis), an annotated bibliography, and a work plan for completing the project in MTM 290.

The following table lists all required class activities.
Assignment and Activities | Learning Objectives Covered
--- | ---
Draft Evaluation Plan #1 | 1, 2, 3, 4
Discussion of Draft #1 with Asha | 1, 2, 3, 4
Peer Feedback for Draft #1 | 1, 2, 3, 4
Draft Evaluation Plan #2 | 1, 2, 3, 4
Discussion of Draft #2 with Asha | 1, 2, 3, 4
Peer Feedback for Draft #2 | 1, 2, 3, 4
Discussion of Draft #2 with writing consultant Sian Sloan | 3
Final Evaluation Plan | 1, 2, 3, 4
Evaluation Plan Lighting Talk (oral presentation with slides) | 1, 2, 3, 4
Participation in discussions during class and on Canvas | 1, 2, 3, 4
Short homework assignments | 3

Due dates for all assignments are listed below, in the course schedule. Additional details about each assignment will be shared on Canvas.

Grading Information

MTM 283 uses a Credit/No Credit (CR/NC) grading structure. To earn CR, a student must complete all assignments and receive a passing grade (B- or better) on the Final Evaluation Plan assignment.

The late penalty on the Final Evaluation Plan is one third of a letter grade (e.g., from an A- to a B+) for each day late.

Note: Students who do not complete a good-quality Final Evaluation Plan will fail the course and must retake it before registering for MTM 290. It is therefore critical that you make a serious effort on every draft and feedback assignment.

Plagiarism and Citing Sources Properly

Plagiarism is the use of someone else's language, images, data, or ideas without proper attribution. It is a very serious offense both in the university and in your professional work. In essence, plagiarism is both theft and lying: you have stolen someone else's ideas, and then lied by implying that they are your own.

Plagiarism will lead to grade penalties and a record filed with the Office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development. In severe cases, students may also fail the course or even be expelled from the university.

If you are unsure what constitutes plagiarism, it is your responsibility to make sure you clarify the issues before you hand in draft or final work.

Common types of plagiarism that you should be careful to avoid include:

- Using a sentence (or even a part of a sentence) that someone else wrote unless you identify the language as a quote by (1) putting the text in quote marks and (2) referencing the source.
• Paraphrasing somebody else's theory or idea without referencing the source.
• Using a map, picture, or table without referencing the source.
• Using data without referencing the source.

The University of Indiana has developed a helpful website with concrete examples about proper paraphrasing and quotation: https://plagiarism.iu.edu/index.html.

You are encouraged to use TurnItIn.com as a tool to help confirm that there is no plagiarized text in your assignments, so that you can fix any potential problem text before formally submitting the assignment. When you submit writing assignments to Canvas, TurnItIn.com will generate a “Similarity Report” that highlights all text that TurnItIn.com identifies as possibly plagiarized. The report will also give you a “score” that shows how much text has been flagged. Please note that the TurnItIn.com similarity reports are helpful but not perfect—they tend to highlight lots of material that is not actually plagiarized, and the reports can also potentially miss problematic text. Therefore, I strongly recommend that you completely ignore the numeric score and instead carefully review all text that is highlighted in the Similarity Report to check if any of these sections need revision.

Be sure to submit draft papers to Canvas before the assignment due date, so that you can check the TurnItIn.com similarity report and make any needed revisions before the assignment is due. It may take a few hours for the Similarity Report to be produced. If you submit a draft for this purpose, add a note in Canvas that says something like “draft only – not for review.”

For instructions on how to find your TurnItIn.com reports in Canvas, see https://help.turnitin.com/feedback-studio/turnitin-website/student/the-similarity-report/accessing-the-similarity-report.htm.

If you still have questions about citing sources and paraphrasing appropriately after using these online resources, make an appointment to discuss your questions. There is nothing wrong with asking for help, whereas even unintentional plagiarism is a serious offense.
